In the afternoon I have my dance class, and in the evening we all watch a film at home together. My brother always chooses something funny, and Mum makes popcorn for everybody.
B — Jake	My favourite day is Friday, because we don't get any homework for the weekend. After school I play basketball with three friends from my class and we usually win. Then my dad and I cook dinner for the family — it's my job to cut the vegetables. I go to bed about an hour later than usual, and nobody says anything!
C — Nina	Sunday is the best day for me. My sister loves shopping and goes to the shops with my mum, but I really don't like it, so I stay at home. My granddad lives with us, and every Sunday morning he teaches me to play chess. He's much better than me, but last week I nearly won!

Part 3 Questions 14–18

Read the article about bees in the city and choose the correct answer A, B or C.

Busy, busy bees

When you think of bees, you probably think of flowers in the countryside. But in many big cities you can now find beehives on the roofs of buildings — and the bees there are doing very well indeed.

In a city like London there are thousands of gardens, parks and balconies. Together they have more flowers than a farmer's field, and they last longer, because the city is warmer than the countryside around it. In one study, bees in the centre of London made more honey than bees in the countryside nearby.

Some people worry about the city bees. They say the air is dirty, and that there are not enough flowers in winter. But beekeepers say the bees are healthy, and they are careful not to put too many hives in one place.

School children are helping, too. In one school in Paris, students look after two hives on the roof and sell the honey to buy books for the library. Their teacher says the children are no longer afraid of bees.

So next time you see a bee in the city, don't run away. It is probably a very busy — and very happy — city bee.

14. What is the article mainly about?

- A why bees are disappearing from the countryside
- B why bees do well in cities
- C how to make honey at home

15. Why do flowers last longer in the city?

- A because the city is warmer
- B because people water them every day
- C because there is less wind in the city

16. What do some people worry about?

- A that bees have no flowers in winter
- B that bees hurt children
- C that honey is too expensive

17. What do the students at the school in Paris do with the honey?

- A They sell it to buy books.
- B They give it to their families.
- C They eat it at school.

18. What does the writer want readers to do?

- A buy more honey in the shops
- B become beekeepers one day
- C feel less afraid of bees
